The Committee on Student Conduct (CSC) was convened November 4, 2010 to discuss the University Code of Student Conduct. The CSC has forwarded recommended changes to the Code of Student Conduct for your approval. The attached University Code of Student Conduct reflects the changes they are recommending.

These Code changes provide the following:

- Guarantee that active participants in the discipline process are Rutgers community members only
- Define attorneys as support people only
- Give Camden and Newark the autonomy to determine and approve sanctions for non-academic conduct
- Allow Rutgers University staff members to serve on the University Hearing Board for non-academic conduct cases
- Add “transmit” to electronic right to privacy violation (u)
