

CALL FOR UNIVERSITY COMMENCEMENT VOLUNTEER AMBASSADORS AND MARSHALS

Join your friends and colleagues in making Rutgers University Commencement an exciting experience for the Rutgers Class of 2019! The Office of the Secretary is seeking volunteer Marshals and Ambassadors for the Rutgers University 253rd Anniversary Commencement on Sunday, May 19, 2019.

Be up close and personal with the graduates as a Commencement Marshal. Marshals have the important job of leading and directing the faculty and student procession across the field of HighPoint.com Stadium while their family and friends watch on! This role is suitable for volunteers who are 21 and over and able to stand for 2 hours or more.

For those who prefer to be behind the scenes, there are several different Ambassador roles to select from, depending on how you like to help. Details of the different roles can be found on the website (link below). Co-workers, friends, and family members are able to join you as an ambassador too.

Marshals and Ambassadors receive event training, nearby parking, breakfast or lunch (depending on your role), name recognition on the video screen during the event, a thank you gift and the reward of making an exciting day even better for our newest alumni!

To learn more or to register as a University Commencement volunteer, visit the Volunteer, Faculty and Staff page and be a part of the university's largest academic event of the year.
